

READJUSTMENT OF BEGGS CAR LINE

STATE ENGINEERS REPORT ON INSPECTION OF SYSTEM.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED

Milwaukee Patrons of Street Cars Will Have Better Service And More Roomy And Comfortable Cars.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., July 10.—As a result of the most detailed and exhaustive inspection ever conducted of a metropolitan street car system, the city of Milwaukee will be readjusted with a view to relieving intolerable conditions of excessive congestion and of making passenger transportation more expeditious, safe and comfortable, as well as making the system conform to the needs of the city in the future. The railroad commission of Wisconsin has received from its staff of engineers a report on the investigation of the service of the Milwaukee street car system, involving the results of a great study of the system and the character and needs of the transportation in the state metropolises. A force of inspectors was sent to Milwaukee to work for several months on the Milwaukee traction system. The result is a set of recommendations for improvement of the service, both by acts of the company in the form of new construction, changes of routes and important adjustments of operation, and on the part of the public in facilitating the proposed new construction and co-operating in the many changes and improvements of the details and incidents of operation.

The recommendations with respect to changes of routes involve the use by one company of the bridges or street car tracks of another, a most important principle being involved, which could perhaps not be established without difficulty and probable litigation. This means that it is suggested that public transportation interests require that wherever the best, safest, most expeditious and convenient transportation requires, one company, say a city company, must be allowed to use the tracks and bridges of another line, say an interurban line. This principle is already included in the Wisconsin law governing the street car lines, these companies being required to allow other companies to use their bridges and tracks for fair compensation, but the same principle has not yet been established as applying to street car companies. An important feature of this study is the fact that the street car systems of Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, St. Louis and Indianapolis were also studied for purposes of comparison with Milwaukee.

While the report is directed toward conditions in Milwaukee, it contains much of interest to all street railway operators and to people everywhere who have occasion to use metropolitan street car lines, or who have become eligible to membership in the great league of "urban commuters."

The company is by the report told to improve its service by adopting a new route scheme outlined and which would involve the expenditure of perhaps millions of dollars, by providing an ample number of cars, so that no car will have to carry more than the report designates as a "comfortable load," that is as many passengers as can be seated, and also a few more, because it was observed that about one passenger in every five or six preferred to stand up rather than sit while on the car. The company is also called upon to establish definite stopping places, to stop on both sides of streets at important transfer points, by the trainmen being more earnest, industrious and courteous, by better supervision of the traffic and by training and educating and settling the cooperation of the public in bringing about greater safety, convenience and expedition in transportation.

The report points out that the traveling public may assist in remedying the present bad conditions by general cooperation with the company in its efforts, by readily complying with the requests of conductors, for example, stepping forward in a car, promptly, when asked to do so, by not crowding the vestibules and aisles of a car, by expressing more promptness in boarding and alighting from cars and generally by showing a disposition to facilitate rather than retard transportation.

STORY OF A PLAN TO START FIGHT ON LA FOLLETTE DENIED

Assemblyman William Gray States That Reported Conference at Oshkosh Never Took Place.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Oshkosh, Wis., July 10.—The statement of Milwaukee political fighters that a conference was held at Oshkosh by William Gray and other assemblymen from the northern part of the state, at a luncheon to start a Stephenson campaign against the return of La Follette to the United States senate, is denied emphatically by Assemblyman Gray. He says Assemblyman Humbrecht came here a few days ago on legal business in behalf of Speaker Hancock, and he and his wife were guests at General Hancock's home. He went to Fond du Lac to deliver an address and there was no such thing as a political conference. He also states that Assemblyman Le Roy of Marquette was here as a guest of Dr. Gordon of the Northern Hospital here at the 4th of July celebration, but that there was no conference with regard to La Follette in that connection.

DR. CLARK REPORTS ON ANIMAL DISEASES

State Veterinarian Tells of Cases of Tuberculosis And Other Allments Looked After in Past Year.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., July 10.—State Veterinarian D. B. Clark of Janesville today issued a statement of the accomplishments in the state in stamping out tuberculosis. The number of cattle tested during the past year was 43,768, of which 2,894 were found to be infected.

The number of herds tested was 3,052, of which tuberculosis was found in 857. Requests for 1,300 orders of tuberculosis board and 4,738 orders of the medicine were distributed. The receipts for slaughtered animals amounted to $24,285.

Since September 23 the board finds that 10,300 head of cattle were shipped into the state, of which 8,690 were reported according to law and no reports were received from 1,700.

There have been thirty-three cases of glanders in the state during the past year, six cases of John's disease, and it is estimated that about 8,000 hogs have died of hog cholera, and 100 hogs, 400 cattle, 30 sheep and 60 horses have died of rabies.

In comparison it is interesting to note that of the 6,553 head of cattle tested in Dane county, 579 were found diseased; of 182 tested in Eau Claire county were infected; of 501 tested in Fond du Lac, thirty-two were ordered killed; La Crosse, 1,445 tested and seventy-two condemned; Racine, 578 tested and 57 condemned; Rock county, 900 tested and 108 diseased; Waushara, 2,171 tested and 539 infected; and Winnebago county, 302 tested and 44 diseased.

State Veterinarian Clark's figures show that less than 7 per cent of the cattle tested during the past year showed tuberculosis. An examination of the detailed report of the cattle tested in counties discloses the fact that the disease is the more prevalent in the southern counties and exists in a smaller per cent in the northern counties of the state.

LAUNCH REPLIC OF FULTON' STEAMBOAT

Model of First Successful Steamboat Said Into Water at New York.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, July 10.—A replica of Robert Fulton's Hudson river steamboat, "Clermont," was launched today. Next fall, during the Hudson-Fulton celebration, the "Clermont Replica" will be the central figure in a great flotilla of warships from all nations which will accompany her over the same course on the Hudson river from New York to Albany, which Fulton took in his original trip on August 17th, 1807.

SPERRY IS NOW 82 YEARS OF AGE

Representative in Congress For Fifteen Years, Has Record To Be Proud Of.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., July 10.—Representative Nehemiah D. Sperry, who has represented the Second Congressional district for fifteen years, was eighty-two years old today. "Uncle Sperry," as he is affectionately called, is the oldest member of the House in point of years and likewise one of the most popular members of that body.

Mr. Sperry is proud of the fact that he was one of the few men who had faith in John Bricker and his Menorah and lost his financial aid to the construction of the famous craft. This is not his only claim to fame, however, for he is justly entitled to be called the "father of rural free delivery." For a quarter of a century Mr. Sperry was postmaster of New Haven, having been appointed by President Lincoln. During his long connection with the postal service he saw the benefits that would come from the rural delivery service. It became one of his pet ambitions, and for years he advocated it in session and out of session. It was due in great part to his efficient work in Congress that body appropriated $1,750,000 toward maintaining the rural delivery.

MISSOURI RIVER IS UP TO DANGER LINE

Jefferson City—Threshers Trying to Save Grain.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Jefferson City, Mo., July 10.—The danger line of the Missouri river was reached here today. Water began to enter the residences along the creek. The low bottoms are flooded. Threshing machines worked all night trying to save as much grain as possible.

ELKS' SPECIAL HIT BY SWITCH ENGINE

Train Carrying Delegates to Los Angeles Convention Struck and Three Killed in Utah Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Salt Lake City, Utah, July 10.—It was reported that a switch engine crashed into the Elks' special on the Denver & Rio Grande road near Helper, Utah, today. Three men who are missing are presumed to have been killed.

The missing men are trainmen. No passengers were killed or injured, though they were badly shaken up. The collision resulted from a misunderstanding of the orders. One baggage car on the Elks' special was smashed to splinters.

The learned professor who said that women in the matter of dress were savages evidently never saw the husband who became savage when he had to pay the bills.

ENDEAVORERS ARE COMPLETING LABORS

Meetings Go On With As Much Fervor As Ever But Not Much Work Remains to Be Done.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—The great Christian Endeavor convention is drawing to a close, but this fact did not in the least abate the enthusiasm with which the delegates participated in today's proceedings. Following the "quiet hour" services in the Central Presbyterian church, round tables were held in the Auditorium, the Armory and other meeting places. The attendance at all the meetings was as large as any day this week. Rev. Charles Stebbins of New York, Rev. Avery A. Shaw of Winnipeg, Miss M. Josephine Petrie of New York, Guy Withers of Kansas City, Rev. Edward Mardon of Alaska, and Rev. R. E. Steele of Lexington, Va., were among the speakers here.

No meetings were held this afternoon, the time being devoted by the delegates to excursions and outings. Tomorrow the public of nearly all the evangelical churches of St. Paul and Minneapolis will be occupied by the eminent divines who are attending the convention.

LOS ANGELES PLANS BIG TIME FOR ELKS

Best Will Not Be Too Good for "Best People on Earth," Who Are Going There.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Los Angeles, Cal., July 10.—The advance guard of the thousands of Elks who will be here for the annual convention and reunion in this city next week arrived today. During the ensuing forty-eight hours special trains arriving at short intervals will carry thousands of the "best people on earth" into Los Angeles, and when the Grand Lodge sessions begin Monday it is expected that the attendance will have broken all previous records in the history of the Elks' convention. Notwithstanding the great distance New England and the eastern states are sending their usual large quotas of delegates, while the south and the west will undoubtedly be better represented than ever before.

The entertainment of the visitors will be on a scale never before attempted in this city. Beginning with tomorrow morning and continuing through the week there is not a break in the social program. Something has been arranged for every hour of the day and evening.

Already the contest for the office of grand exalted ruler is beginning to excite attention among the delegates. There are two candidates for the high office and a lively and spirited contest is promised. James E. Samuels, a leading member of the town bar and for the past nine years a member of the committee on laws and the judiciary of the grand lodge, is generally conceded to be the leading candidate.

Opposed to Mr. Samuels is August ("Garry") Herrmann, the baseball magnate and politician of Cincinnati. Headquarters have been opened at the Hotel Alexandra in the interest of Mr. Herrmann and nothing is lacking in the way of money or politics to promote his boom.

Friends of Mr. Samuels claim for him the united support of Illinois, Texas, Minnesota, Iowa, California, Kansas, Arkansas, Louisiana and other of the middle and western states, while the east is generally regarded as favoring Mr. Herrmann.

FINAL DEBATES ON TARIFF NEXT WEEK

Will Be Only Thing to Relieve Quietness of Capital—News Forecast of Week.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., July 10.—A quiet week is in prospect for official Washington, the final debates in congress over the tariff measure promising the only relief from the dullness that envelops the capital in midsummer.

President Taft, having returned from his trip to the Champlain country, plans to remain in Washington until the end of the week. On Thursday he will attend the laying of the cornerstone of the Ingram Memorial Congregational church in this city, and probably will deliver an address. The church will be the first in Washington to unite scientific medicine and spiritual therapy.

The drawings will begin Thursday for the Indian lands soon to be opened by the government in the Flathead reservation, Montana; the Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and the Spokane, in Washington. The throwing open for settlement of those immense tracts—more than 750,000 acres of desirable farming land—has created much interest throughout the entire country, and many parties have been organized to go to the northwest during the registration days and try their luck in the great lottery. The fact that this is the last big opening the country will ever see has added interest to the event.

Interest in the automobile world will center in the Glidden tour—the annual road race of American motorists. The tour is to start Monday from Detroit and the entries assure a notable contest. The trip will be made over a circuitous route of 2,637 miles, extending as far westward as Denver and returning to Kansas City, which will be the finishing point.

The week at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition in Seattle will be made notable by a great convention representing the lumber trade of the entire country and the annual meeting of the National Council of Women of the United States.

In Buffalo the thirteenth annual convention of the Jewish Chautauqua society will assemble Monday for a week's session. Prominent Jews from all parts of the United States are expected to attend the convention which, it is predicted, will be the largest in the history of the society.

Sioux City, Iowa, July 10.—A thousand people were driven from their homes and many thousands of dollars of damage was done by a flood in Perry creek, a small stream which separates the east side from the west side, early today. It was the worst flood in the city's history. A cloud-burst north of Sioux City is believed to have been the cause. It is estimated that five hundred homes in the densely populated district along the creek are surrounded by water. Leo Botschneider, aged twenty-one, was thrown into Perry creek this morning by the bank giving way, and lost his life.

SUFFRAGETTES CATCH ASQUITH.

Arrested After They Succeeded in Presented Their Petition.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, July 10.—Four suffragettes, who, under the leadership of Mrs. Despard, have been waiting patiently for the last few days in the vicinity of parliament, waylaid Premier Asquith in Downing street and tried to push through the police cordon that was drawn around the premier's residence. The women shouted: "Petition, petition; will you grant us a hearing?"

The premier turned on the steps of his home, saying: "I will take the petition." He descended and, having accepted the petition, entered his house, without listening to any explanation. The deputations withdrew, but, on returning later, all were arrested and charged at the police court with disorderly conduct.

Tablet Presented By Congregational Club of Chicago Unveiled in Amsterdam.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Amsterdam, July 10.—Another link in the chain of friendship that has connected the Netherlands with the western world since the beginning of the seventeenth century will be forged tomorrow with the unveiling of a memorial tablet presented to the English Reformed Church of this city by the Congregational Club of Chicago. The tablet is to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of the arrival of the Pilgrim Fathers in Amsterdam. For eleven years, from 1609 until the departure for America in 1620, the Pilgrims made their home in Holland, having been driven by persecution out of England.

The unveiling of the tablet is to be made an occasion for interesting exercises of an historical character. Addresses will be made by Rev. William E. Barton of Chicago and Rev. William Elliot Griffiths of Ithaca, N. Y., with acceptance of the tablet by Rev. William Thomson, pastor of the congregation in this city.

TODAY BIRTHDAY OF JOHN CALVIN

NOTED REFORMER BORN FOUR HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Geneva, Where He Was Most Active Celebrates The Day With Appropriate Exercises.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Geneva, July 10.—Four hundred years ago today John Calvin, the great Protestant reformer, was born in Noyon, France, and in all protestant countries the event is observed in a more or less elaborate manner. The city of Geneva which, for many years, was the scene of Calvin's reformatory activity, and where he died in 1564, made especial efforts to observe the memorable anniversary by dedicating a monument of the great reformer. Calvinists and Protestants in general from all parts of Europe assembled in this city to attend the dedication of the monument and the incidental exercises and to do honor to the memory of the most illustrious evangelists of the Protestant faith.

Calvin was not the author of the Reformation; Luther is undoubtedly entitled to that distinction. But Calvin, like his co-religionist Knox, was more aggressive than Luther and, although his part as a practical reformer was acted upon a very narrow stage, his power as thinker and writer, organizer and systematizer, extended over the broad field of Europe. He took up the scattered beliefs and thoughts of the new evangelist party, and in the form of his strange, logical, and legal intellect wove them into a new system. The elements of Calvin's life were of a kind to intensify his apostate zeal and fanaticism born at Noyon, July 10, 1509. His father was a notary and the secretary of a bishop. Young Calvin was intended for the priesthood and after he had studied in Paris he was given a subsidy. Five years later his father had a bitter quarrel with the ecclesiastical authorities of his home town and as a result young Calvin gave up the priest-hood and began to study law. In the course of his studies he came in contact with and under the influence of Melchior Wolmar, a strong sympathizer with the reformist movement.

Amore as Calvin was in his private life, the profligacy of his time would probably have made a Reformatist of him in any event. But his father's quarrel with the ecclesiastical authorities and the new surroundings associated his legal studies with the Reformation. He was rapidly drawn into fellowship with the reformers, and soon after was compelled to flee from France, to escape a prosecution to which the Reformation was then being subjected. That his father was not ill-founded, that his father was not ill-founded, when he was ordered to France in 1531. He was kept in prison several months and after his release made his way to Geneva.

It was in Geneva that he began to impress his personality on his time. At the age of twenty-two he wrote his famous treatise, "Instituta Christianae Religionis," which was read everywhere in Europe and spread his fame far beyond the boundaries of Switzerland. At that time Geneva was a free city of burghers. It was governed by a bishop of the established church. The city was in a state of political and moral decay when Calvin reached it in 1536. Other French Reformers, who had been exiled, had preceded him, and they prevailed on him to remain and help them in the work in which they were engaged.

Calvin founded a school, and afterward began preaching to small congregations. Most of his followers, however, were evidently much less concerned with his religious teachings than with the prospect of assisting his influence to oppose the political power of the bishop. When Calvin discovered this fact, all the secret which he ever felt for hypocrites was poured in him. On Easter, 1538, he denounced his flock to a meeting room and compelled them to acknowledge their sin and the sin of their fathers.

This action was more honest than diplomatic under the circumstances. It ended the strongest resentment from his former followers and Calvin was compelled to flee. For several years Calvin led a wandering life in Germany and not until 1541 did he dare to return to Geneva, where great changes had taken place in the meantime. Calvin began to exercise power, as absolute as had been that of Lycurgus in Sparta, and began to rule as a despot.

Calvin founded an ecclesiastical state, which he sought to make as gloomy and austere as was his own life, and he succeeded in a large measure. Uncompromisingly did he persecute every man who dared to change an iota of the new creed or did not accept its dogmas implicitly and the result was a system of inquisition, almost as terrible as had been that of the Roman church. His teachings spread throughout Europe and found a particularly strong foothold in Scotland. Calvin died on May 27, 1564, at Geneva.

CONTEST WILL BEGIN MONDAY, JULY 12, AND CLOSE ON SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4.

Nominations May Be Made by Filling Blank Printed In This

In this issue The Gazette announces the opening of the greatest voting contest ever attempted in Southern Wisconsin. Eight o'clock, Monday, July 12, marks the inauguration of this great contest, which will continue eight weeks, closing Saturday evening, September 4.

The Prizes.

Last year the Gazette conducted one of the largest contests ever held in this county, which proved very popular.

The prizes offered then were diamond rings and watches with a European tour as a grand prize. This year the Gazette has purchased in outlay of valuable and practical prizes consisting of three high grade upright pianos, three elegant diamond rings, three combined course business college scholarships, and three gold watches, all of which will be given away absolutely free September 4th.

You Can Win.

Any young lady is eligible to compete in this great contest and popular vote, as explained in this issue, will determine those who are successful.

This contest affords an excellent opportunity for the young ladies of Janesville and vicinity, to win either a piano, a handsome piece of jewelry or a business education at the expense of The Gazette.

The ambitious girl who is quick to realize the advantage of this exceptional opportunity should see that her name is sent to the contest manager, and follow the instructions that appear daily. And, remember, to win, you must receive the largest number of votes, according to the conditions of the contest.

After your nomination, call on and interest all your friends and by systematized and energetic action induce as many as possible, not only to cast their votes for you, but to interest their respective friends in your behalf.

The easiest and surest way to win is for candidates to ask their friends not only to settle the nomination blanks, but to settle arrangements or to prepay their subscriptions.

Your friends will be glad to accommodate you, as this costs the subscriber nothing extra.

The settlement of these subscriptions entitles you to a special ballot which can be voted any time during the contest.

Any person who desires to vote, in this contest, may do so by properly filling out and voting the coupons that appear in each issue of The Gazette, but these coupons are good for only ten days from date of publication and will not be counted after the date printed on them.

The special vote, ballots, which are issued for every subscription payment, may be cast any time during the contest, and they will count their full value for the candidate whose name they bear.

People living in one district may vote for a candidate that lives in another; they are not confined to their own particular district.

At the close of the contest the successful ones will receive orders from The Gazette for their respective prizes and they may use or dispose of them in accordance to their individual liking. They are transferable.

Send to The Contest Manager the name of the young lady whom you desire to nominate and secure one of these valuable prizes. The name of the party making the nomination will not be divulged if so desired.

With a little encouragement on your part she may win one of these elegant high-grade pianos, a beautiful diamond ring, a scholarship or a gold watch. See that her name is entered, then pledge her your hearty support.

Like the "early bird," much depends upon an early start; consequently names should be entered at once. Don't delay.

No candidate is barred because she is not at present or never has been a Gazette subscriber. This grievous offense is forgiven this time.

Counting will be commenced, enter on the start; present your name at once and your host of friends will do the rest.

September 4.

The surprise of September 4 will be the fact that you won such little amount of effort put forth on your part.

The issue of The Gazette Monday, July 19, will contain the names of ladies competing, with their respective number of votes.

From then on, votes will be counted at 9 a. m. each day and the results of the count printed the following afternoon.

In behalf of those interested a short article will appear each day which will enable them to keep in close touch with the contest and those competing.

The articles will be brief and will not interfere with or crowd out the regular amount of high-class news, for which The Gazette is noted.

Each contestant is to receive this

One of the nicest, cleanest, pleasantest offices in your city wants a boy

They will pay him $15 a week; and $15 a week is $65 a month.

They want a NEAT, CLEAN, HANDY, QUICK-WITTED fellow, and a WILLING worker. He must be a STENOGRAPHER and write a FAIR hand.

But WHERE'S the BOY? We haven't any. The LAST BOY we had who was at least halfway ready was taken by the Daily News at Beloit last week.

And TUESDAY 3 firms asked us for 3 girls—two of them at $15 per week; and THURSDAY a Janesville factory wanted ANOTHER.

And JUST YESTERDAY MORNING one of your NEW INDUSTRIES—ALIVE and UP and COMING—asked for—perhaps YOUR daughter, IF SHE WERE READY.

And they say: "We consider THIS work VERY PARTICULAR, desire to obtain a GOOD girl, and will PAY WELL for it."

THREE GOOD POSITIONS in Janesville TODAY and NO one to fill them.

And ANY boy or girl who secures ANY ONE of them will be VERY FORTUNATE and need not worry for the FUTURE.

IS it any WONDER that we grow ENTHUSIASTIC when talk of what YOUR boy CAN do, if ONLY his BRAINS are READY?

CAN'T YOU feel OUR pleasure when we say "about YOUR boy": "HERE'S a boy that's RIGHT. He's fit as a FIDDLE, CLEAN and HEALTHY and UPRIGHT. He works like he eats, and his appetite is GOOD. HE'S SURELY do your work."

It's like the training of a BLOODED horse, only a THOUSAND times more NOBLE.

And how GOOD it makes us feel to take YOUR DAUGHTER to a BRAINY businessman and say to him: "THIS girl is RIGHT. Her FOLKS are right. She comes from well bred stock. She's got the work RIGHT in her and will work for YOU like for HERSELF."

And it's but FAIR to the JANESVILLE businessmen that Janesville boys and girls prepare themselves to do the JANESVILLE work.

The time is RIFE. YOU have the boy; WE have the school and EVERY DAY that you DELAY, some OTHER boy or girl SECURES the JANESVILLE work. PHONE us AT ONCE, send this coupon TONIGHT and we'll show your boy WHERE to put his BRAINS for his best good.

Remember:—We have demonstrated at Beloit our ability to take care of the boys.

NOVEL HONEY-MOON WHICH HAS ESTABLISHED A NEW RECORD.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Burnham, who took the most novel wedding trip on record landed within fourteen miles of Boston.

Boston, Mass.—Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Burnham, who are known as the "aerial honey mooners," have landed safely after one of the most exciting wedding trips ever known. The ship journeyed around in the darkness of night for nearly four hours, and at daybreak landed on a farm in Holbrook, just fourteen miles from Boston common.

Besides establishing a new record in wedding trips, Mr. and Mrs. Burnham stand a chance of winning the trophy which a Boston newspaper has offered for a balloon starting from Pittsfield which came nearest to the capital within a year. Hitherto the nearest landing has been twenty-six miles from the capital and the year is nearly up.

The happy pair express themselves as well pleased with the novel trip and, although several minor mishaps occurred, nothing of a serious nature prevented the full enjoyment of their night's ride. The basket alighted with scarcely a bump near the farmhouse of Ralph Gilkey, just outside Holbrook.

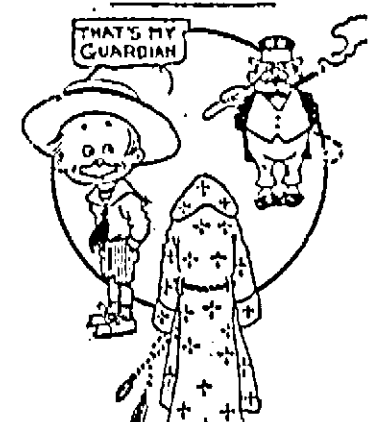

The surprise of the Gilkeys can hardly be imagined but when they had the matter explained to them they took in the honey-mooners for breakfast, and a merry breakfast it was.

WE HAVE TO ANNOUNCE That we have secured the Agency for the..... FORD MOTOR CO.

And that Deliveries can be made immediately on Ford Model T Roadster $825

We believe that the Ford is the best automobile built at the price, and know that it has more power, per weight, than any other machine made. Fords have stood up under all conditions, are low in price, and low in upkeep. No other automobile is built of heat treated vanadium steel, no other automobile has its own magneto built within its engine, no other rear drive like Fords, no other engine like ours. The Ford automobile represents long years of careful tests. Henry Ford, America's best designer, really built his automobiles, not after foreign or home models, but after his own ideas.

THE REAL TEST

of an automobile is to drive it long distances over country roads, take them as you find them. The New York-to-Seattle contest, from Ocean to Ocean, presented all classes of roads, and all classes of conditions. It was a severe test. The FORD, MODEL T, a stock car, the same as we are delivering, won that contest over high-priced and high-powered cars. Arrived at Seattle hours ahead of all competitors.

CHIEF ENGINEER ELLIS IN THE CITY AT PRESENT.

WORKING ON DRAWINGS

Montgomery of Madison Electric Anxious to Have Line Completed at Once.

Chief Engineer Joseph Ellis of the Cincinnati Construction company is in the city working on his plans for the proposed Jameville-Madison Interurban. H. H. Ziegler of Columbus, Ohio, president of the company, called on to Madison for a conference with President Montgomery of the Madison Traction line. Madison feels that the interurban is assured and has the following to say relative to the matter in the columns of one of the papers of the Capital city:

"That the extension of the interurban street car system from Jameville north to Madison is not to be objected to by the owners of the street car system at Madison is certain.

"Officers of the Cincinnati Construction company which has made the surveys and secured the right of way for the greater part of the line have received letters from the officials of the Madison city street car company, declaring itself willing to aid in the construction of the line and also agrees to allow the interurban company to use its tracks in Madison under certain conditions which are acceptable to the interurban company.

"President Ziegler of the Cincinnati Construction company has sent word to the Madison officials that his concern has reached that point in its work where it was necessary to get some concessions and agreements with the Madison company. The interurban company proposes to enter Madison by way of the Oregon road, bringing it to the local street car lines at the southwest side of Lake Monona, again at the West Madison passenger station of the C. & M. St. P. railway and then up and around the Capitol park.

"The interurban company has expressed a desire to start its work at once and has received good reports from the Madison company officials. The Madison company is not only favorable to the coming of the interurban line but is also willing to do what it can to make it easy for the company to get into the city and also to get about the Capitol square.

"The Madison officials suggest keeping away from the section near the Milwaukee tracks as there will be many crossings there and it will retard the progress of the cars. If it is deemed advisable by this route the city company will stand for it and will supply the necessary crossing men.

"The concluding paragraph of the letter of the Madison company is as follows: 'We want to treat you fairly and equitably and will be pleased, as we stated before, to have you construct the proposed line and enter the city over our tracks.'

"The officials of the Rockford & Interurban system claim they are not interested in the extension financially, but are desirous of seeing the line pushed to Madison and will do all that is possible to help in the work."

BOARD OF REVIEW HAS ADJOURNED TO TUESDAY

Testimony Regarding the Rock River Machine Co. Valuations Was Taken This Morning.

At the session of the board of review this morning sworn testimony regarding the valuations of the Rock River Machine company property was given by Sup't. Finch, Atty. George D. Sutherland, Assessors David Conger and Frank Smith who inspected the premises yesterday, and F. O. Ambrose, who was brought in by some of the other assessors to justify the original levy. Mr. Ambrose stated that he tried to purchase the building without any machinery three years ago for $5,000 but that the company wanted $6,000 and wouldn't sell. Mr. Finch declared that Mr. Ambrose was mistaken about the machinery portion of the proposition—that some of it had been included. The company's January inventory was also introduced in evidence. An amicable understanding was reached with regard to the assessment of Dr. James Miller's building lot on Prairie avenue. The board adjourned until Tuesday morning.

HOUSEHOLD CLUB TO GIVE WAIFS OUTING

Tenement Children from Chicago Will Be Given Vacation on Farms in Vicinity.

In accordance with an established custom, the members of the Summer Club of Household Economies each year take charge of a group of waifs from the Chicago tenements and give them a two-weeks' outing in the country. Last year a camp for the children was located on a farm in the country, and although the camp was very successful, the plan did not work out as well as was expected. This year the scheme will be to secure farms and homes where one or two of the children may remain, instead of putting them all together. The committee in charge of the work consists of Mrs. J. B. Day and Mrs. Walter Helms, who are efficiently taking charge of the work last year. They are planning to bring a number of children up from Chicago the last two weeks in August. As many children, as accommodations can be secured, will be invited, and the ladies desire the names of those who would be willing or able to take charge of one or two or even more of the waifs for the two weeks. Others who are unable to take care of the children but who can guarantee, are requested to do so as the committee will see that they are placed in good homes. They also solicit contributions for this purpose.

COLONEL NONESUCH TALKS

The Whole Performance Was a Finished One and Every Feature

Worthy of Special Mention.

"All nonsense and tomfoolery and a big waste of effort you say? Don't draw any rash conclusions, sonny."
said the Colonel indignantly as he bleeked a long, white ash from his perfecto after the fashion of all the novel smile, the haunting glamour of those brass curtain rod tips and the other accessories of a superb scenic environment, not to mention the grace and bure and charm of the dance and the music of the Egyptian orchestra he nearly killed off, would certainly get the badge with the most holes in it.

Talk about your Olive Fremstad's and Gertrude Hoffman's! Orle's dance of the seventeen veils had them all backed up on the board!

"Louis Levy was one of the other captivating girls. In the procession, and Charlie Putnam was some one barraged when Louis hopped off that restrained street car. No. 13, and embraced him right on the front street.
There were plenty of others, however,
who didn't try to beat a swift retreat and the way they flirted with the punch was scandalous. All in dead working with it every day, evoked blisses from the humane Society members all along the line of march.

"Was that baseball game a unique contribution? I should rather guess
so. "Dug" Thayer with a bird-cage for a mask, catching mythical curves and her swell victoria (loaned by John Soultman and T. E. Welsh) with liveried driver and footman would have created a much bigger sensation had he rode further back in the parade instead of immediately behind the Colonels Nonesuch." While many of and drops pitched by "Billy" Pohlenchen and the whole blue rushing with a telescope to locate imaginary high fives was mighty good pantomime executed in a finished fashion. The lad-ing had rehearsed and were in the fettle better.

"One reaches in vain for adjectives
when it comes to that pony squadron, the prettiest offering of the whole parade. Somebody with remarkably good taste had done a lot of palustic thing work with the vehicles—converted them into little chariots worthy of a Pompeian flower festival—and the chorus of "Dug" along the line of march testified to the appreciation of the onlookers.

"The aeroplane, after traversing Court, River, and Milwaukee streets to the Grand hotel, alighted at the end of its second flight on the Corn Exchange square and refused to budge another inch. Such contraptions are always likely to go wrong, especially when manipulated by inexperienced mechanics like Ned Wilton and Elph Van Cleve.

"Roosevelt's Hunt in Darkest Af-ica, with a battery of reporters and typewriters working like mad on the outer fringe of the jungle was a timely hit and carried with it a suggestion that the number of new and original take-offs which can be devised for the ingenuity of the participants. O. H.
Typer portrayed Roosevelt with startling fidelity and John Shearer as Kermit, E. E. Gerald and Harold Green as reporters, Joseph Hill as the monkey, and the galaxy of native porters were all splendid in their respective parts.

Making Money On the Farm

II.—Maintaining Fertility

By C. V. GREGORY,
Author of "Home Course in Modern Agriculture"

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association

NOT all lands need the drainage, but there are none on which the problem of maintaining fertility is not an important one. Fertility of the land in its broadest sense means its ability to produce large crops.

One of the important factors influencing fertility is the amount of plant food in the soil. Ten elements, carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, calcium, magnesium, iron, sulphur, nitrogen, potassium and phosphorus, are necessary to the growth of plants. From 10 to 95 per cent of the dry matter of plants is made up of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen, which are obtained from air and water. Of the others only three, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, are used in such large quantities that the supply in the soil is likely to become exhausted. These three are usually spoken of as the essential plant foods.

Amount of Plant Food in Soil.
These plant foods are present in varying amounts in all soils. In many cases it is necessary to increase the supply by the use of commercial fertilizers. The real need of most soils, however, is not the addition of more of these materials, but the judicious use of those already there. It is estimated that there is enough phosphorus in the upper seven inches of soil in the Mississippi valley to raise a hundred bushels of corn to the acre every year for sixty years and enough potassium to last 600 years at the same rate. Much of this phosphorus and potassium is combined with other materials in such a form that it is unavailable for the use of the plants. One of the principal problems of the farmer, then, is to make this stored fertility available.

One of the most effective means of doing this is by keeping the soil plentifully supplied with humus. Humus is the name given to decaying organic matter in the soil. It is the humus that gives the dark, rich color to soils. It leaves that "brown streak in the furrow" that farmers have long regarded as an indication of fertility. Humus gives the soil a spongy texture and greatly increases its water holding capacity. It also makes the soil lighter and warmer. Soils which contain large amounts of humus do not bake or become cloddy easily. They are mellow and respond readily to cultivation. Humus contains considerable nitrogen and furnishes a home for bacteria, which aid in making plant food available. Carbin acids are also formed in the decaying of humus that aid in making the phosphorus and potassium available. It might almost be said that the chief problem of maintaining fertility is the problem of keeping the soil supplied with humus.

Maintaining the Humus Supply.
Probably the best way of maintaining this humus supply is by the liberal use of barnyard manure. The surplus straw should be used for bedding, so as to save all the liquid portion and add to the bulk of the manure. Shredded fodder is also good for this purpose. The manure should be hauled to the land as fast as formed. When it is allowed to decay in the barnyard much of the nitrogen is lost, and rain falling upon it also wash out other elements. The manure spreader is an implement that should be found in every barnyard. The manure can be loaded direct from the stables to the spreader at almost all seasons of the year and spread in an even layer upon the field. With a spreader the manure can be made to cover twice as much ground, so that the whole farm can be gone over often.

While barnyard manure is undoubtedly one of the best means of maintaining fertility, it cannot always be had. Many farmers, because of their location near markets which demand certain crops, find it more profitable to supply these crops than to raise live stock. Others prefer grain farming because it is less confining. Such farmers must have some method of maintaining fertility which does not depend primarily upon manure.

The Value of Clover.
The best substitute for manure is clover. Clover supplies an abundance of nitrogen, the most rapidly used of the three essential elements. Three-fourths of the air is made up of nitrogen. Clover and other leguminous crops are able to get nitrogen from this source by means of bacteria which live on their roots. These bacteria change the nitrogen of the air into nitrates, a form in which it can be used by the plants. Fully one-third of the nitrogen collected by the clover plant is left in the soil in the roots and stubble. One crop of clover in a four year rotation will furnish nearly enough nitrogen for the remaining three crops in the rotation.

This is a much cheaper form of obtaining nitrogen than by purchasing it in commercial fertilizers at 10 to 15 cents a pound. It is much more profitable to keep the nitrogen supply fairly constant by the continued use of a rotation with legumes than to add a large amount at one time. Nitrogen in the form of nitrates is readily soluble, and every rain washes some of it out of the soil. This is not true of the other essential elements to any marked extent. Too liberal a supply of nitrogen at one time tends also to promote too rapid leaf growth at the expense of fruit or grain.

The stubble and roots of the clover, together with the cornstalks and other rubbish, will do a great deal to keep up the humus supply. In addition to this, if no manure at all is available, some humus may have to be supplied from some other source. This is especially true if the soil is naturally poor in humus. One of the simplest ways to supply this is by green manuring. This means the turning under of a green crop, such as clover, cowpeas or some other legume. This supplies both humus and nitrogen. The best time to plow under such a crop is in the fall, so that it will have time to decay before spring. A large mass of undecayed material plowed under in the spring checks the upward movement of moisture and is liable to make the land sour.

Another method of adding to the humus supply is by mowing a crop of clover about haying time and letting it lie on the ground. The second crop can be cut in the same way or used for fall feed or for seed.

"Clover Sick" Soil.
After clover has been grown for a considerable length of time, especially if much has been plowed under for green manure, the land is liable to become "clover sick." This is caused by an excess of acid in the soil. This acid can be neutralized by the application of ground limestone. Caustic or quicklime is not so good as limestone, and it burns up large quantities of humus and in general is too violent in its action. Lime has another advantage on clay soils in that it causes the particles to adhere together in larger masses, thus making the soil more porous. The usual rate of application is from twenty to forty bushels to the acre. With the application of lime, as well as with the adoption of any other new method, it is best to try it on a small scale first. Then if it proves profitable its use can be extended.

The judicious use of clover or some other legume will effectively solve the humus and nitrogen problems. There remains the question of the potassium and phosphorus supply. Clover also aids with these. The humus formed from it helps to dissolve the unavailable materials and prepare them for the use of the plant. As stated before, there is enough potassium in the upper seven inches of the average prairie soil to last 600 years under the most intensive culture and enough phosphorus for fifty years. Clover changes this seven inches into twice as many feet. Clover roots go down ten or a dozen feet or farther. Alfalfa roots go down twenty feet or more. These deep roots bring up minerals from the lower layers of soil and leave them where the shallower rooted grain crops can get them.

Making Fertility Available.

Gypsum, or land plaster, has a considerable effect in making potassium and phosphorus available. Applied at the rate of 500 or 600 pounds per acre, it will often increase crop yields considerably. It also has a beneficial effect on alkali soils. Use one or two bushels to the acre.

Probably the most effective way of making phosphorus, potassium or other plant foods available is by tillage. Frequent and thorough cultivation, keeping the soil fine and mellow, favors the chemical processes by which locked up plant food is made available.

It must be remembered, however, that the faster these materials are liberated the sooner will the supply become exhausted. When rotation with legumes, tillage and the application of lime and gypsum no longer produce satisfactory results it is a sign that there is a lack of potassium or phosphorus, or both, in the soil. Phosphorus is more liable to become scanty in amount since the supply is smaller. Bone meal and ground phosphate rock are the best forms in which to apply this material. The former is quicker in its action, but considerably more expensive. Potassium is usually bought in the form of muriate or sulphate.

The president thinks to much of Mr. Loeb to disturb him in office unless the circumstances are unusual. In this particular case the president was informed as to the necessity of reorganization so that the customs office in New York might be put upon a substantial business basis. Mr. Loeb himself regarded an about as good a politician as there is in New York and it is understood that he took the action with full knowledge of the storm of protests that would follow.

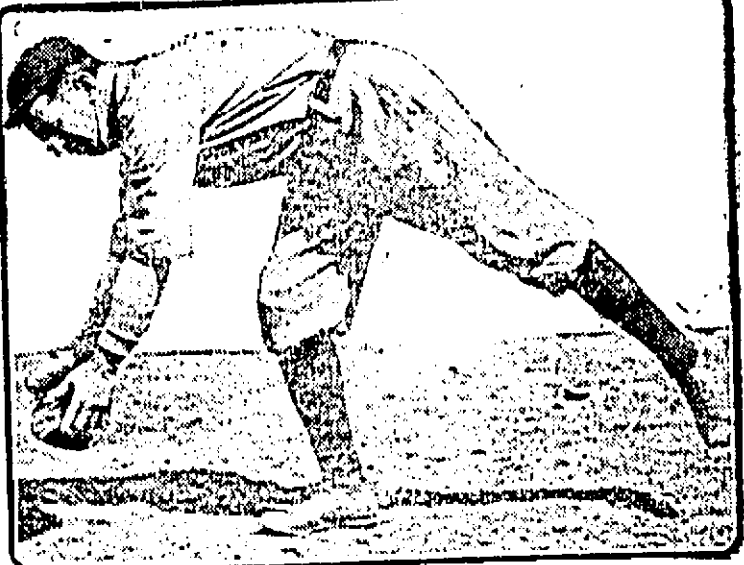

This action was taken after conference with Secretary MacVough as to the wisdom of reorganizing the custom service in New York following the discovery of numerous frauds by the inspectors of the district. Mr. Loeb, however, was not a politician, but a man of high character and integrity. He was a long-time friend of Mr. Loeb and they have worked together in harmony in New York political matters.

MISSISSIPPI ON A RAMPAGE.

Dig River Threatens to Flood St. Louis by Monday.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—A flood stage of 30 feet in the Mississippi river by tomorrow and a further rise of three feet Monday is predicted by the local weather bureau as the result of reports from various towns above here and on the Missouri river and its tributaries. Glasgow, Booneville and Hermann, all Missouri towns, reported rivers out of their banks. If the predicted rise occurs here conditions in East St. Louis and other Illinois towns will rival those of 1908.

The flood in the Platte river reached Agency, a town of 700 inhabitants, 12 miles southeast of St. Joseph, and parts of the town were under 12 feet of water. Nearly a third of the inhabitants were compelled to flee.

IS PRESIDENT NOW IN A PLOT?

SAID TO HAVE ASKED SENATOR TO OPPOSE TARIFF BILL

TO STRENGTHEN HIS HAND

Measure Goes to Conference After a Hot Fight in the House—Aldrich and Payne Expect Finish in Ten Days.

Washington, July 10.—Members of congress are greatly interested in a story told by one of the Republican senators who voted against the tariff bill, declaring it was a violation of the party's pledge for downward revision. The senator asserted that the president told him he hoped he would vote against the bill in order to strengthen the hands of the executive and of the revisionists in the house in the coming fight for lower rates in the conference committee. This story was repeated on the floor of the house after the bill had been received from the senate. It immediately stiffened the backbone of the little band of Republican insurgents who fought for lower rates when the measure was under consideration in the house.

Bill Goes to Conference.
The tariff question was shifted yesterday afternoon from both houses of congress to a conference committee. After one hour and a half of debate the house, by a vote of 178 to 151 made a rule whereby all of the 847 amendments of the senate were disapproved to and the conference requested by the senate granted. Eighteen Republicans voted against the rule and one Democrat for it.

Speaker Cannon appointed the following members of the house committee on ways and means to be the house conferees:

Payne, New York; Daltell, Pennsylvania; McCall, Massachusetts; Hamilton, Illinois; Calderhead, Kansas; Fordney, Michigan; Clark, Missouri; Underwood, Alabama; Griggs, Georgia.

Although the differences between the two bodies are represented by 847 amendments, many of them likely to be contested with bitterness, Chairman Aldrich of the senate finance committee and Chairman Payne of the house ways and means committee agree that it may be possible to reach an agreement within ten days.

Insurgent Ranks Increased.

The debate in the house at times waxed warm, and disclosed the fact that there were some Republicans, in addition to the so-called "insurgents," who were yet to be pacified before they would give their votes on the final passage of the bill. The Democrats held up the majority party to scorn for having, as they charged, violated its anti-election pledges. A feature of the discussion was an appeal by Chairman Payne to his colleagues to send the conference to the senate unhampered by instructions. He promised to rightly exact an explanation of every amendment made by the senate, in order that the house conferees might report back a bill which would meet the approval of the majority and of the country at large. His appeal was granted.

House Members in Revolt.

The following 18 Republicans in the house voted against the special rule sending the tariff bill to conference: Davis, Minn.; Good, Iowa; Gronna, N. D.; Haugen, Iowa; Hinshaw, Neb.; Hubbard, Iowa; Kendall, Iowa; Kin-kaid, Neb.; Lindbergh, Minn.; Madison, Kan.; Miller, Minn.; Morse, Wis.; Murdoch, Kan.; Nelson, Wis.; Norris, Neb.; Platt, Iowa; Poindexter, Wash.; and Woods, Iowa. Broussard, La., was the only Democrat voting with the Republicans for a conference. The house then adjourned till Monday noon.

During a session lasting nearly four hours the Philippine tariff bill and the bill automatically continuing the Porto Rican budget were passed by the senate.

After a conference with the president, Mr. Aldrich said that it might be necessary to entirely redraft the corporation tax provision in conference.

THREATEN BIG MINE STRIKE.

Union Officials Seek to Prevent Trouble in Kansas.

St. Louis, July 10.—T. L. Lewis, president, and the officers of three southwestern districts, representing Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas of the United Mine Workers of America are in session with the executive board of the Kansas coal mine operators in an effort to avert a strike of 32,000 miners.

W. D. Ryan of Kansas City, commissioner of the operators, gave the operators' side of the dispute, which was caused by a walkout of 100 miners in Osage county, Kansas. Since then the operators have eliminated the check-off. Members of the conference committee said an amicable settlement is expected.

BURGLAR ADVISES WOMEN NOT TO FIGHT THIEVES

Slayer of New York Woman Declares It Is Dangerous to Scream.

New York, July 10.—If women will follow the advice of Frank Schmidt, the burglar, who killed Mrs. Sophia Stuber in her home at Flatbush, they will not be hurt by a robber when he enters their house.

Here are some don'ts for women when they find a burglar in the house, as given by the slayer-burglar: Don't try to fight!

Don't scream!

Don't try to save your jewels, but try to save your life!

Don't think the burglar is there to be trifled with! He'll shoot, if necessary to make his getaway.

"Mr. Stuber and his son are the ones to be blamed for this killing," he said. "They were fools to try to stop such men as we when all we wanted was to make a getaway. If we had been left alone there wouldn't have been no shooting."

"If Mr. Stuber will take a gun I will gladly stand up in front of him and let him shoot till I drop dead. That's how much I regret this affair."

Schmidt's pal, Carlo Giro, alias Metzler, who was silent at first, made a full confession, in which he tried to lay all the blame on his mate.

Francis, United States Senator John Kean and Walter Reed, mayor of Long Branch, all of New Jersey.

CAN'T USE SPICY LETTERS IN THE SNELL WILL CASE

New Missives Found But Court's Ruling Prevents Their Introduction in Evidence.

Bloomington, Ill., July 10.—More spicy letters received by Col. Tom Snell from women have been found in a closet in his old mansion, but they will not be introduced in evidence, much to the disappointment of the sensation seekers who are attending the trial.

The old man doubtless received these letters while he was an occupant of the homestead a few years before his death. The letters will be examined by the lawyers for the contestant but it is feared that they will not be of any value due to the decision of the supreme court when the case was sent back for another trial.

The upper court took occasion to declare such letters inadmissible, referring particularly to those credited to Mabel Snell McNamara and to the wife of Rev. Hamilton. It was held that letters received by the old man could not be construed as affecting his mentality.

Some of the newly-discovered letters are in the handwriting of Mabel Snell McNamara upon whom the millionaire lavished thousands of dollars. The proponents had practically concluded their case when court adjourned last evening until Monday morning. Several witnesses promoted the cause of the contestant by doubting the sanity of Snell, among them Dr. J. M. Wilcox, railway surgeon of Clinton, who when he learned of Snell's fondness for the society of women and of his dissolute conduct at times, said he was not so positive about the mental soundness of the old man.

Much interest was taken in two women who were spectators in the courtroom. They registered at a local hotel as Mrs. and Miss Day of Menominee, Mich. They were thought by some to be Mabel Snell and mother.

New York, July 10.—John R. Early, the young southerner herded about the country as a leper, gave a reception at the New York skin and cancer hospital. It was attended by medical men, Early's friends and a sprinkling of the general public interested in the case.

Early related a humorous incident at the expense of the Washington authorities.

"What did you do when they had you shut up?" he was asked.

"I ruled chickens," he said, "and both the chickens and their eggs were sent in to Washington and sold in the open market. They wouldn't let my wife come within ten feet of me, but they had a watchman who brought me my food. He took no special precautions about it, either; he handled the dishes with his bare hands, and he carried away the towels that I used, too."

"If Early had been a leper these eggs might have spread the disease all over Washington," added Dr. Bulkley. "If it had been infected at all the eggs would have carried it."

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organs soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. # DULL SEASONS ARE DULL mostly because merchants are willing that they should be.

The store that is constantly looking for increase in business will find many ways of keeping up the sale of its merchandise.

Under the counters, packed away in boxes, and on shelves there is lots of merchandise that is not selling as it should. The longer it remains in your store the less valuable it is both to you and the consumer.

If you have bought too much, or if it is not selling as you anticipated in buying, acknowledge your error in judgment and MOVE IT. Put a price on it that will bring people to your store. It is better to take a loss now than to let stock accumulate for years and be worth less each month that it remains.

Sales of this nature always stimulate buying in other departments.

This is good sound theory, but all the theory in the world is worthless if you don't ACT. This "dull Season" make up your mind to get busy. Make it a season of hustling, bright, snappy, energetic salesmanship. Do more than just wait for business to pick up in the fall. You can make business with the right kind of merchandise. If your stock is not in shape for brisk summer sales, it would be a good investment to put it in shape.
